

SILVER ORE.

A fine specimen of Tombstone silver ore, by mail postpaid on receipt of $5 for one year's subscription to the Tombstone Epitaph. Address: Epitaph Printing and Publishing Co., Tombstone, Arizona.

THEN AND NOW.

The richest silver mine in the world is at Potosi. It is situated on an elevation 16,000 feet above the level of the sea, in a region of perpetual snow. It has always been worked in a very rude manner, yet it has already produced $250,000,000, and shows no signs of exhaustion. The annual product of the silver mines of South America at the present time is estimated to be $13,000,000, and their total product to the present time has amounted to $2,386,000,000.—Daily Stockholder.

The above item is pure rot. The Comstock has produced $350,000,000, and is not exhausted in the same sense of the Potosi. It will be remembered that this is the mine that Henry Meigs was going to rehabilitate had he not died. The mine is in such a condition that it produces but little if anything now. Meigs was going to reopen it by running a deep tunnel from the side of the mountain, thereby draining the mine to a great depth. It is no doubt true that the mines of South America have turned out in the last 375 years the sum of $2,386,000,000, which divided by the whole number of years is less than six and a half millions per year, or about one-half of Arizona's product last year. When the fabled wealth of these old Silverados is properly analyzed it is found not to be such a wonderful bonanza after all—that is as compared with the one hundred millions yearly product of the present era.

BELOW we give the March and the last quarter's output of copper from the reporting mines of Portage Lake district, Lake Superior:

March product tons.	Total since January 1.
Allouez.....	101
Atlantic.....	269
Cluett and Hecla.....	151
Franklin.....	5,070
Grand Portage.....	453
Pewabic.....	38
Quincy (about).....	290
Totals.....	2,338

If we add 1150 tons for the quarter's yield of Copper Queen and 1000 for the Clifton works we will arrive at a close estimate of the total copper product for the first quarter of 1882. These figures combined make 9,335 tons, or at the rate of 38,000 tons for the year. With these figures who will say that the United States is not a great copper producing country?

THERE is not entire unanimity among the consulting physicians in the case of the democracy of Cochise county. Several are in favor of the heroic treatment recommended in yesterday's EPITAPH, while others—those of the Sangrado school—are still in favor of astringents with the cheese diet. It is evident to any one at all familiar with the case that no half way measures will be effective in saving the patient. Powerful purgatives, with honest, wholesome after treatment, is the last, best and only hope for the sufferer's life.

The legislature of New Mexico at its recent special session failed to re-appportion the territory as required by act of congress, therefore the governor of the territory, with the president of the council and the speaker of the house of representatives of the last legislature, met as a board of re-apportionment on the 20th day of March and divided the territory into nine council districts with twelve members, and eleven representative districts with twenty-four representative districts.

THE Hon. Jesse James, late of Missouri, is being made the recipient of much gush and "sym," while his "murders" are being severely condemned. Mr. James' great mistake was in not settling down in Cochise county, while here last summer. He would probably have received the appointment of deputy sheriff, and more than likely would have been a member of the next Arizona Legislature from San Simon. But we are all liable to make mistakes.

EVERY storm in Albuquerque, says the New Albuquerque Review, carries with it a lesson, and that is, that two-story frame buildings are not as good investments as government bonds. Houses of brick, stone or adobe are the fittest for the valley.

Auditing the Doctors' Bills.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The house committee to audit the expenses of President Garfield's illness have made their report, which was referred to the committee of the whole. It allows Mrs. Garfield $50,000, less any amount the president had received for salary; Bliss, $35,000; Agnew, $15,000; Hamilton, $15,000; Reyburn, $10,000; Mrs. Edson, $10,000; Crump, $3,000; Secretary of the Navy, $1,882; Under-taker Spear, $1,835; C. N. Jones, of Elberon, $1,092, and other amounts varying from fifty cents to $100. It retires Surgeon-General Barnes with the rank of Major General, and authorizes the promotion of codward to the rank and pay of Lieutenant-Colonel.

Blackburn and Springer for the minority, do not object to the payment for services, but oppose the exorbitant figures. They say the amounts paid should come from the unpaid salary of Garfield; they also oppose the retirements and promotions recommended by the majority, and moved to re-commit the question.

A Brutal Murder.

COLFAX, Cal. April 19.—James Spencer, one of the oldest inhabitants of the county, was brutally murdered and robbed at his cabin near the town. He was last seen alive about 8 o'clock last night, on his way home. At 3 o'clock to-day one of his neighbors found him lying dead in front of his door, which was standing open. From appearances he had just unlocked the door when struck on the head with some blunt weapon. His coat and vest were torn almost to tatters, showing that he struggled for his life. The back part of his head was completely mashed in, and on his face ten cuts were discovered. In the search for plunder the murderers removed deceased's clothes from his body, seeming to know he was in the habit of carrying money. Near the body was found a broken ax-handle covered with blood and hair of deceased. Three tramps found at an Indian camp near by, were arrested on suspicion.

A Probable Message.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—It is more than probable that the president will send a message to congress recommending that the law regulating the use of the posse comitatus be amended so as to allow the president complete authority to suppress lawlessness in any state or territory where the local authorities are powerless. The question of the power of the president to employ the posse comitatus to suppress lawlessness in Arizona is now under consideration by the attorney-general, and the message on this question will be mainly based upon his conclusion in the premises.

Star Route Cases.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—In the star route cases Williams called on the government to furnish a bill of particulars describing all the papers and petitions alleged to have been forged. The government resisted, and asked the court to decide on the request as soon as possible. After some argument on the forfeiture of Dorsey's recognizance, it was stricken from the records. Merrick called for the arraignment of S. W. Dorsey who pleaded not guilty, when the court adjourned.

That Missouri Tornado.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., April 18.—Further particulars of Brownville tornado report unusual destruction. Substantial brick and frame buildings were torn to pieces and the fragments scattered far and wide. Everything in the course of the whirlwind was ruined. The financial damage is estimated at one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The towns of Montrose, Berwick, Clinton and Appleton also suffered severely.

Ohio's Sunday Law.

CINCINNATI, April 19.—The saloon keepers and brewers to-day raised a fund to fight in the courts the bill for closing saloons on Sunday.

Columbus—Saloon-keepers will close Sundays.

Toledo—Saloons will be closed Sundays.

The Mysterious Victim.

CHICAGO, April 19.—A Washington special says that Bentley and Jameson, the evangelists, visited Guiteau yesterday, and the three knelt together and prayed in the cell of the jail. Guiteau winced when allusion was made to his sudden and imminent death.

It is reported that the Earp party have been employed by the authorities of New Mexico to hunt down and arrest the parties who are known to have been interested in the massacre of the Mexicans at Skull canyon, New Mexico, last summer. This may account for the report in the Nuzet this morning that they were seen to board the train at Denning and go east.

THERE is a good-sized personal journalistic war raging in Prescott, between J. H. Marion, of the Courier, and Pat Hamilton, of the Democrat. Marion intimates that the Honorable Pat is receiving $160 per month out of the republican club at the hands of Clark Churchill, chairman of the territorial republican committee, to "Killy" the democracy of Yavapai.

THE sand storm on Sunday last at Phenix was so severe that it had the effect of a smoked glass in looking at the sun, making the dark spot upon the face of that luminary visible to the naked eyes. Another phenomenon in connection with the storm, noted by the Phenix Herald, was the postponement of the meeting of the bible class until further notice. These two events mark this day at Phenix as one long to be remembered.

Proceedings of the Common Council.

The city council convened in regular session at 7 o'clock last night, Mayor Carr in the chair, a full council in attendance and B. C. Quigley clerk.

Councilman Atchison, of the Third ward, made a lengthy report in regard to the conference of the committee appointed to consult with the city attorney as to the advisability of entering into a suit against Jas. S. Clark et al. to recover the townsite property of the city, and stated that much time had been devoted to the consideration of the matter. Mr. Atchison also said that Judge Haynes and other attorneys for the occupants of townsite property had informed the committee that they had commenced what they regarded as the proper legal proceedings to contest the matter in the District court, and that they had made an earnest request of the committee to oppose any interference on the part of the council, and that the actions already commenced would be reached in the May term of court. The attorneys had assured the committee that they would do all in their power to bring the question to a final issue, and asked that the council and mayor should take no action in the matter, but await the result of the actions already commenced.

Judge Haynes appeared before the council as the attorney for the occupants, and argued that the deed made by ex-Mayor Randall to Clark and others was without authority and of non-effect, and that the actions now commenced would set aside. He knew of no authority that would give to an individual or company the right to hold the patent for a townsite. He knew of no action the council could possibly take in the premises. It had no directing power in regard to the matter, the former mayor having deeded and conveyed the lands to the townsite company, and he hoped that it would decide from any further action and allow the case to go on as commenced by himself and associates.

J. S. Clark addressed the council, and said that he would like to be informed as to the desires of the council and the occupants; that he was ready to receive proposals tending to a settlement. He also stated that the district court had decided that he had full rights in the premises, and that there never had been an adverse decision against him or his claims. J. S. Clark said he would like to know if the general government would now do so dishonorable a thing, no instance of its having done so being on record, as to issue a patent under the rules and laws of the land, receive the full amount demanded in payment therefor, and then deny to the party the rights guaranteed under the patent to the purchaser, who paid his money. He was of the belief that it would never so dishonorable itself. He said, however, that there were probably twenty to forty lots, deeds of which had been procured by ex-Mayor Randall, that the present mayor would have the right to convey or deed, which he did not now, and never had, claimed over these lots.

On motion, it was resolved that the council take no legal steps in the townsite question.

LOCAL PERSONALS.

J. G. Mather is registered at the Cosmopolitan from Mexico.

Richard L. Ogden, Esq., of Sonora, is booked at the Cosmopolitan to-day.

Mr. E. A. Gould, of Prescott, came into town last night and has taken rooms at Brown's.

Leonel Jacobs, Esq., of Tucson, arrived in town to-day from the "city on the Santa Cruz" and is stopping at the Grand.

Mr. Charles E. Brown, who has been absent several weeks in California, returned by the coach to-day. His many friends will be glad to see him back, and in such good spirits.

WILL IT BE GENERAL?

The Outbreak of Loco and His Band at San Carlos.

The country was thrilled again last evening with the announcement that an emeute had occurred at San Carlos, in which the chief of the Indian police had been killed by Loco's band, and that a feeling of great anxiety was felt for all the employees at the agency. Following are the dispatches that were received during last night. What the news will be to-day we cannot predict, but can say that the telegraph lines have been monopolized by the government up to noon to-day, which goes to show that vigorous measures are being taken to check the outbreak in its infancy.

THOMAS, A. T., April 19.—Loco's band of Chiricahua broke out this morning and killed Chief of Police Sterling and an Indian sergeant, destroyed the cattle pen near the agency, and were fighting with the police at the sub-agency at 4 o'clock p. m. Colonel Chiricahua, Lieutenants Anderson and Sands, and two companies of cavalry, left here at 10:45 p. m., and arrived at the sub-agency and crossed the river in pursuit at 1 o'clock p. m. This is the latest news. SCULLY, Commanding.

WHITTIER BARBERS, April 19.—Reports from the reservation are that Loco's band of Warm Spring Indians and some few others have broken out. Sterling, the agency chief of police, was killed and the agency threatened. Troops are moving up there from Fort Thomas. There are two troops of cavalry moving in the direction of the reservation, and some few others are on the march. Loco's band will be sent out to Dragoon and Alamo mountains, under Lieutenant Leno, from Ruckelshaus, which I suggest can be useful as a success for the Chiricahua organization to check their further movements, and to catch Loco's band in the direction of the reservation. Your adjutant-general has not yet reported the list of military companies. I don't know how far the outbreak will spread, but would strike the military to be notified everywhere. WHITLOCK.

Governor Tritle has notified settlers at Globe, Lords and O'Brien, and Governor Sheldon, of New Mexico.

THE WORST FEARS REALIZED.

TUCSON, April 20.—The citizens have the following special from Fort Thomas:

Chiricahua's band of four bucks and thirty squaws and children, about 100 in all, have crossed the river and are now at the sub-agency. The agency Chief of Police Sterling went to see if Loco's band of Warm Spring Indians were present, and was killed on sight. His body was badly mutilated. The band then left. Two companies of cavalry, under Lieutenants Anderson and Sands, and two companies of cavalry, left here at 10:45 p. m., and arrived at the sub-agency and crossed the river in pursuit at 1 o'clock p. m. This is the latest news. SCULLY, Commanding.

Still Later—Telegrams to the Governor.

TUCSON, A. T., April 20.—The military wires are so crowded that it is impossible to get details of the Indian troubles at San Carlos. The military have moved with promptness, and are endeavoring to secure every possible pass through which the band may attempt to go through to get into Mexico. Gov. Tritle has used prompt measures to notify settlers of the troubles. He has also telegraphed to Gov. Sheldon of New Mexico. The following dispatches have just been received by him:

GLOBE, April 19.—Commissioned officers A. Baley and D. B. Lacy, captains, have one hundred and thirty stands of arms and can muster two hundred and fifty armed men. Loco, Victorio's war chief, with a band of forty-five bucks, besides squaws and children, left San Carlos this morning on the war-path, going east. Before leaving they killed Sterling, chief of police, and a private. They took in a freight wagon between San Carlos and the sub-agency, killed the stock and it is reported killed the driver. Troops and fifty scouts under Debofield and Dan Wing are in close pursuit. It is reported that Stevens' band is killed; if so, probably Loco, of Loco's band, is operating in that neighborhood. The Indians at San Carlos are quiet.

SAN CARLOS, April 19.—F. A. Tritle: Early this morning the Warm Spring Indians, numbering about three hundred, forty of them being men, left after killing A. D. Sterling and an Indian policeman, and came to the camp to see if everything was all right. Sterling had received information that some rangers were on the reservation and had induced four bucks and thirty squaws to leave the branch agency during the night. The military at Thomas and White were at once notified. The two companies of cavalry, under Lieutenants Anderson and Sands, left here at 10:45 p. m., and arrived at the sub-agency and crossed the river in pursuit at 1 o'clock p. m. This is the latest news. SCULLY, Commanding.

The immediate cause of trouble is believed to be the killing of the Indian Indian, prisoners who attempted to escape, and who were imprisoned in the Indian agency.

The fact that Loco's band refused to plant any crops this season has caused them to be looked on with suspicion, and for the last few days it was believed that they were in close communication with Loco's band in Sonora. Loco's wife and the Chiricahua are related and all ways operate together. Loco and Victorio were captains of the Gila Apaches, a branch of the Pinalos, which tribe is now allied and co-operates with the southern Chiricahua.

At the time of the Chiricahua outbreak last fall Loco was left on the reservation with the families of Victorio's tribe and those of Loco. If it is true that Loco has returned he came for the purpose of taking Loco's party and the families mentioned back to Mexico. The route these hostiles will take will probably be through the Burro mountains in New Mexico, and if all the families do not accompany them they will hereafter stray away in small parties and join them.

A WHOLE menagerie is on exhibition at Wehrfritz's, including an aquarium of beautiful gold fishes. This saloon has lately been fitted up in a very attractive style.

MORE dust.

THE Cosmopolitan hotel has become conscious of its great popularity, and is touching up the front with a fresh coat of paint. EPITAPH ditto.

MR. J. LEARY is doing some very fine work in the line of boots and shoes at 531 Allen street, next door above the store of E. T. Hardy, late D. Calisher. He gives satisfaction in every instance.

THE charges heretofore preferred against Chief of Police Neagle were last night, at the meeting of the board of police commissioners, shown to be groundless, and that officer was honorably acquitted.

A NEW hotel is about to be opened in this city, which will be known as the American. Miss Nellie Cashman and Mrs. Cunningham are the proprietresses of this new house, and will conduct the same upon a plan highly satisfactory to the public. There will be attached a large and new dining hall where a first class table will be spread, at which place elegant meals can be had at all hours. The American house is on Fremont street, between Fourth and Fifth.

AN CHUNG, who burglarized the house of H. Quigley last evening, about 9 o'clock, now languishes in the city prison, and will have a chance of testing the climate of Yuma in recompense for attempting to appropriate Mexican man's property. The only thing that saved Mr. Quigley's total loss was returning home a little early, he caught the naughty Scampolonia in the very act of denouncing "with all his movables, he having them all nicely bundled and tied up for that purpose.

BOYS time during last evening a dead broke stole two large, fine turkeys from the Occidental restaurant. Upon missing the fowls the proprietor notified officer Hagarty, who proceeded at once to work up the case, and after some search found a couple of turkeys at the Pacific Chop-house, which were identified as the stolen ones. They had just been brought to that place and sold to Jack. As to who the d. b. was no one seemed to know; hence he is "ahead of the game" and little Jack that much out.

THE dancing academy of Messrs. McCarthy & Stewart has been continuing its lessons in the giddy art without an intermission from the start, some six weeks ago, and pupils who at that time found it difficult to catch the simplest step now pass through the dances with ease and grace. The class, which numbers about thirty members, meets every Wednesday and Saturday evenings at Turn Verein hall, where they receive instruction from the professors. Mr. McCarthy's method of teaching is so simple that it requires but a short time to become something of a dancer. Young ladies generally attend the class, and thus the lessons pass off very pleasantly.

THE progress made by the ladies of the Presbyterian church with the children they are drilling for a concert is surprising. There are some fifty or sixty boys and girls who are to participate in this piece, and the task of training them to play this somewhat long and complicated selection in a pleasing manner is no easy one, yet the ladies meet about three times each week, and through their perseverance the class already does exceedingly well. All the airs of the play are very pretty, while the attitudes assumed are decidedly novel and pleasing. Dresses of bright colors are being made for the girls, while the boys are to have various costumes of "The Mythological Floral Festival," and when the rehearsals are finished a most entertaining concert will be given to the public.

The Tombstone Tornado.

The council having decided not to contest the city's title to vacant lots, and many of the largest owners of city property having purchased their titles from Mr. Clark, it looks very much as if the vexed question of titles is to be settled by individuals in the courts or otherwise. Of those who have money, some will fee lawyers and others will set aside from Mr. Clark. It remains to be seen who will get off the cheapest. The following card in this connection explains itself:

Now that the city authorities have decided they have no title to lots in the City of Tombstone, I wish to notify all settlers on lots who have not yet title to come forward and make arrangements, as they can now secure deeds to their lots for less money than they can employ any lawyer to obtain them. I will give the sum of $5,000 with every person, and deposit said amount in bank, that the Supreme court of the United States will sustain all my suits relative to these cases, notwithstanding certain lawyers are willing to take cases and guarantee their clients, for a sum of money, they can win them. I am desirous to find some money man that thinks I am wrong. JAMES S. CLARK.

Humorous Incident of the Flood.

A certain boat coming up the Mississippi the other day lost her way, and bumped up against a frame house. She hadn't more than touched it before an old darkey rammed his head up through a hole in the roof where the chimney once once out and yelled at the captain on the roof: "War de hell is yer gwine wid dat boat? Can't you see nuffin? Fust thing yer knows yer gwine to turn dis house ober, spill de oil wot man, an' de chillen out in de flood an' drown 'em. Wat yer doin' out here in de country wid yer damn boat, anyhow! Go on back yander froo de co'n fields, an' git back into de ribber whar yer b'longs. Ain't got no business 's'n miles out in de country foolin' rovin' peoples houses, nobow!" and she backed out.—Memphis Appeal.

Courtship in Colorado.

She had been receiving the attention of a young man for about a year, but becoming impatient at his failure to bring matters to a crisis, she resolved to ascertain his intentions. When he next called she took him gently by the ear, led him to a seat, and said: "Nobby, you've been foolin' round this claim fur mighty near a year, and hev never yit shot yer mouth off on the marryin' biz. I've cottoned to yer on the square clear through, and hev stood off every other gal-ot that has tried to chip in; an' now I want yer ter come down ter business or leave the ranch. If you're on the marry and want a pard that'll stick right yer ter yit yer pass in yer checks and the good Lord calls yer over the range, squel and we'll hitch; but if that ain't yer game, draw out an' give some other feller a chance for his pile. Now, sing yer song or skip out." He sang.
